Dolsen for Force in Russia, Not in U. S., Barrows Says

That J. H. Dolsen, defending himself before Judge James G. Quinn on the charge of criminal syndicalism, had justified force and violence in Russia but that he had not justified similar methods in this country, was the declaration of President David P. Barrows of the University of California, when called as a witness today by the defendant.

The testimony of President Barrows referred to a debate participated in with Dolsen in Berkeley on July 23 on the subject: "Resolved, that the Soviet Government of Russia should be recognized and the American troops on Russian soil should be immediately withdrawn."

After declaring that he recalled more or less distinctly what was said at the debate, President Barrows replied to the interrogation of Dolsen as to whether he had heard him (Dolsen) advocate force or violence by saying:

"As applied to American institutions I don't think you did. But you justified the violent methods used in Russia."

"Was this justification based upon the necessity of such means in Russia because of conditions there?" asked Dolsen.

This question was not answered when an objection by Deputy District Attorney Myron Harris was sustained by the court.

Later Barrows said: "I don't remember that you limited your justification for force and violence to Russia."

was denied on the objection of Deputy Harris that he would not have any chance to make objections.

After relating his educational career, Dolsen told of his activities in the Socialist party until the Communist Labor party was formed at the Chicago convention after a split between the two factions.

FILM DEPICTS SAFETY DRIVE

"Safety First" week in Oakland furnished a prolific background for scenes for the current week's TRIBUNE-T. & D. News Weekly now being shown at the T. & D. Theater.

The pictures, demonstrating safety measures, run from the sublime to the ridiculous. The thrills are contained in Mrs. We Sall's slide from the roof of the First National Bank building, first alone and again with Captain Evans, instructor in rescue work. The fun is confined in scenes taken showing "day" walkers and the fate that usually falls to them.

Other scenes show the Porter School of Alameda winning the city-wide contest in the basketball championships returning their "horse-shoes" and returning the Lympic Club goat; the opening of the new county infirmary and the University High School Carnival.

P. G. and E. Planning To Enlarge Its Plant

Plans for the construction of new plants in the San Francisco Bay area will double its present generation of electric energy, have been completed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. It has petitioned the State Railroad Commission for permission to issue $10,000,000 worth of temporary bonds to finance the project. The bonds will be exchanged for five-year, seven per cent collateral trust convertible bonds. The payment of these certificates will be secured by the deposit of $15,000,000 of the company's general and refunding mortgage bonds.

The proposed plants will generate a minimum of 350,000 horsepower which will increase to 500,000 horsepower in 1925. The total electric energy marketed last year by the company.

BUTTERS IN ZONE OF MEXICAN ROW

Word from Charles Butters, Oakland millionaire mining man, who was thought to have landed at Mazatlan, Mexico, today, is being awaited with anxiety by Mrs. Butters and friends, who fear that he may have stepped off the steamer San Juan into the midst of the Mexican revolution.

"We hope to hear from him within a few hours," said Mrs. Butters, who has tried unsuccessfully to get into wireless communication with her husband on the steamer.

Butters left Oakland a week ago on the Pacific Mail steamer San Juan to visit property at Copala, 50 miles inland from Mazatlan. The last word Mrs. Butters had from him was from San Pedro.

"When Butters lands he will be in a better position than we are to see how the conditions are," said the manager of the Butters plant on Chabot road, "and if it looks safe he will probably continue inland to the property. We do not believe he is in any danger."

Thirty Feet of Danger

The intestines bend and twist and turn on themselves—more than thirty feet of them—and when food waste clogs them up, irritating and dangerous poisons are formed and carried by the blood through the system.

Humor Pathos Romance The Day Resurgent

Copyright, 1919, by the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

I can see the artist's end of his pencil and frown when it comes to drawing his Easter picture; for his legitimate pictorial conceptions of figures pertinent to the festival are but four in number.

First comes Easter, pagan goddess of spring. Here his fancy may have free play. A beautiful maiden with decorative hair and the proper number of toes will fill the bill. Miss Cleopatra St. Vavasseur, the well-known model, will pose for it in the "Letterbox" or whatever it was that Tribby called it.

Second—the melancholy lady with upturned eyes in a framework of lilies. This is magazine-covery, but reliable.

Third—Miss Manhattan in Fifth Avenue Easter Sunday parade.

Fourth—Maggie Murphy, a new red feather in her old straw hat, henna and self-consciousness in the Grand Street turnout.

Of course, the rabbits do not count. Nor the Easter eggs, since the higher criticism has hard-boiled them.

The boxed field of its pictorial possibilities proves that Easter, of all our festival days, is the most vague and shifting in our conception.

It belongs to all religions, although the pagans invented it. Going back still further to the first spring, we can see Eve coaxed with a new green leaf from the tree of life.

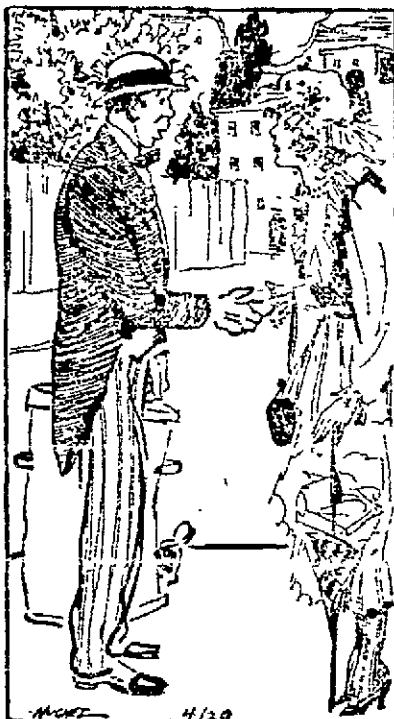

Now, the object of this critical and learned preamble is to set forth the theorem that Easter is neither a date, a season, a festival, a holiday nor an occasion. What it is you shall find out if you follow in the footsteps of Danny McGree.

Easter Sunday dawned as it should, bright and early, in its place on the calendar between Saturday and Monday. At 5:24 the sun rose, and not at 10:30 Danny followed its example.

He went into the kitchen and washed his face at the sink. His mother was frying bacon. She looked at his hard, smooth, knowing countenance as he juggled with the round cake of soap and thought of his father when she first saw him stopping a not grounder between second and third twenty-two years before on a vacant lot in Harlem, where the La Paloma apartment house now stands. In the front room of the flat Danny's father sat by an open window smoking his pipe, with his disheveled gray hair tossed about by the breeze. He still clung to his pipe, although his sight had been taken from him two years before by a precocious powder.

That went off without permission. Very few blind men care for smoking, for the reason that they cannot see the smoke. Now, could you enjoy having the news read to you from an evening newspaper unless you could see the colors of the headlines?

"This Easter Day," said Mr. McGree, "Scramble mine," said Danny. After breakfast he dressed himself in the Sabbath morning costume of the Central Street Impending House dray chauffeur—frock coat, striped

They pumped hands on the corner. Danny, patting leather, guided the chain across front of vest, and wing collar, rolled-bum derby and button-down from Schenck's (chosen) Fourteenth Street and Tony's fruit stand) Saturday night sale.

You'll be going out this day, of course, Danny said old man McGree, a little wistfully. "It's a kind of holiday, they say. Well, it's fine spring weather. I can feel it in the air."

Why should I not be going out? demanded Danny in his simplest chest tones. "Should I stay in? Am I as good as a horse? One day in my life I shall have to earn the money for the rent and the breakfast. You've just said, I'd like to know."

All right, lad," said the old man. "I'm not complaining. While me two eyes was good there was nothing better to my than a Sunday out. There's a smell of turf and burnin' brush comin' in the wind. I have tobacco, tobacco, tobacco, and a rist to ye, lad. Times I wished your mother had learned to read, so I might hear the rest about the hippopotamus—but let that be."

Now, what is this foolishness he talked about? asked Danny. "Have you been through the kitchen," he passed through the kitchen. "Have you been through the kitchen," he passed through the kitchen. "Have you been through the kitchen," he passed through the kitchen.

"I have not," said Mrs. McGree, "sits by the windy all day. This little recreation of a blind man among the poor gets at all I think they wander in their minds at times. One day I talked a great without stoppin' for the most of an hour. I looks to see if there's a bird burnin' in the sky. It's not a bird, it's a hippopotamus. I don't understand. 'Tis weary days, Sundays, and holidays and all, for a blind man. He can't see the better nor stronger than him when he had his two eyes. 'Tis a fine day, enjoy yourself, lad. The morning 'tween will be cold sunnier at six."

Have you heard any talk of a hippopotamus, asked Danny. Of Mike, the janitor, as he went out the door downstairs, said Mike, pulling his shirt-sleeves higher. "But 'tis the only subject in the animal, natural and illegal list of puzzles that I've not been complained to about these two days. See the landlord or else move out if ye like. Have ye hippopotamus in the house? No, then?"

"It was the old man who spoke of it," said Danny. "Likely there's nothing in it."

Danny walked up the street to the Avenue and then struck northward. He had a great deal to think of. Easter—modern Easter, in new, bright, raiment—leads the pascal bird out of towering, brown churches came the blithe music of anthems from the living flowers—so it seemed when your eye looked upon the Easter girl.

Gentlemen, frock-coated, silk-hatted, garden-stained, sustained the background of tradition. Children carried lilacs in their hands. The windows of the brownstone mansions were packed with flower children, creations of Flora, the sister of the Lady of the Lilies.

Around a corner, white-gloved, pink-rimmed and tightly buttoned, walked Corrigan, the cop, shield to the curb. Danny knew him.

"Why," he asked, "is Easter? I know it comes the first time you're full after the moon rises on the seventeenth of far-n-but why? Is it a proper and religious ceremony, or does the Governor appoint it out of politeness?"

"'Tis an annual celebration," said Corrigan, with the judicial air of the Deputy Police Commissioner. "Peculiar to New York City, extends up to Harlem. Sometimes they has the reserves out at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street. In my opinion 'tis not political."

"Thanks," said Danny. "And why did you ever become a man in a uniform of hippopotamus? When not especially in drink, I mean?"

"Nothing larger than sea turtles," said Corrigan, reflecting, "and there was wood alcohol in that."

Danny wandered. The double, heavy incubation of enjoying a simulantaneously a Sunday and a festival day was his.

The sorrows of the hand-teller fit him easily. They are worn so often that they hang with the picturesque lines of the best tailor-made garments. That is why well-fed artists of pencil and pen find in the griefs of the common people their most striking models. But when the Philistine would disport himself, the grimness of Melancholia, herself, attends upon his caprices. Therefore, Danny set his jaw hard at Easter, and took his pleasure sadly.

The family entrance of Dugan's cafe was feasible, so Danny yielded to the vernal season as far as a glass of bock. Seated in a dark, huddled, humid back room, his heart and mind still groped after the mysterious meaning of the springtime jubilee.

"Say, Tim, he said to the waiter, 'why do they have Easter?'"

"Skiddoo!" said Tim, closing a sophisticated eye. "That's a new one. All right. Tony Easter's for you last night, I guess. I give it up. What's the answer—two apples or a yard and a half?"

From Dugan's Danny turned back eastward. The April sun seemed to stir in him a vague feeling that he could not construe. He made a wrong diagnosis and decided that it was Katy Conlon.

A block from her house on Avenue A he met her going to church. (They pumped hands on the corner.)

"But you look dumpy and dressed up," said Katy. "What's wrong? Come away with me to church and be cheerful!"

"What's doing at church?" asked Danny.

"Why, it's Easter Sunday, Silly! I waited till after eleven, expectin' you might come around to go."

"What does 'tis Easter stand for, Katy?" asked Danny gloomily. "Nobody seems to know."

"Nobody as blind as you," said Katy with spirit. "You haven't even looked at my new hat. And skirt. Why, it's when all the girls put on new spring clothes. Silly! Are you comin' to church with me?"

"I will," said Danny. "If 'tis Easter is pulled out there, they ought to be able to give me a beauty. The green roses are great."

At church the preacher did some expounding with no pounding, he spoke rapidly, for he was in a hurry to get home to his early Sabbath dinner, but he knew his business. There was one word controlled his theme—resurrection. Not a new creation, but a new life arising out of the old. The congregation had heard it often before. But there was a wonderful bit, a combination of sweet peas and lavender, in the story from the pulpit. It attracted much attention.

After church Danny lingered on the corner while Katy waited, with pique in her sky-blue eyes.

"Are you coming home to the house?" she asked. "But don't mind me. I'll get there all right. You seem to be studyin' a lot about something. All right. Well, there's at any time specially, Mr. McGree."

"I'll be around Wednesday night as usual," said Danny, turning and crossing the street.

Katy walked away with the green roses dangling indignantly. Danny stopped two blocks and a good deal still with his hands in his pockets, at the curb on the corner. His face was that of a graven image. Deep in his soul something stirred so small, so once, so keen and leavening that he was something more tender than the April day, more subtle than the call of the vernal, purer and deeper-rooted than the love of woman—for had he not turned away from green roses and eyes that had kept him chained for a year? And Danny did not know what it was.

The preacher, who was in a hurry to go to his dinner, had told him, but Danny had no libretto with which to follow the drowsy intonation. But the preacher spoke the truth.

Suddenly Danny slapped his leg and gave forth a hoarse yell of delight.

"Hippopotamus!" he shouted to an elevated road pillar. "Well, how is that for a hum guess? Why, blast my skylight! I know what he was driving at now."

Hippopotamus? Wouldn't that send you to the Bronx? It's been a year since he heard it, and he didn't miss it so very far. We quit at 469 B. C. and this comes back a good deal. A wooden man wouldn't have guessed what he was trying to get out of it.

Danny caught a cross-town car and went up to the rear flat that his labor supported. Old man McGree was still sitting by the window. His extinct pipe lay on the sill.

"Will that be you, lad?" he asked. Danny stared into the rage of a strong man who is surprised at the house of committing a good deed.

"Who pays the rent and buys the food that is eaten in this house?" he snapped, viciously. "Have I no right to come in?"

"Ye're a faithful lad," said old man McGree, with a sigh. "Is it evenin' yet?"

Danny reached up on a shelf and took down a thick book labeled in gilt letters, "The History of Greece." Dust was on it half an inch thick. He laid it on the table and found a place in it marked by a strip of paper. And then he gave a short rapt at the top of his voice, and said:

"Was it not the hippopotamus you wanted to be read to about then?"

"Did I hear ye open the book?" said old man McGree. "Many and many a month since my lad has read it to me. I dinno; but I took a great liking to them Greeks. Ye're off at a place. 'Tis a fine day outside, lad. Be out and take rest from your work. I have gotten used to the chair by the windy and me pipe."

"Pel-Peloneus was the place where we left off, and not hippopotamus," said Danny. "The war began there. It kept something doing for thirty years. The headlines says that a queen named Philip of Macedonia, in 335 B. C. got to be boss of Greece by getting the decision at the battle of Cher-Cheronea. 'I'll read it!'"

With his hand to his ear, rapt in the Peloponnesian War, old man McGree sat for an hour, listening.

Then he got up and felt his way to the door of the kitchen. Mrs. McGree was slicing cold meat. She looked up.

"McGree's eyes."

"Do ye hear out lad readin' to me?" he said. "There is none finer in the land. My two eyes have come back to me again."

"Tis a happy day, this Easter. And now ye will be off to see Katy in the evening. Well enough."

"Who pays the rent and buys the food that is eaten in this house?" said Danny, angrily. "Have I no right to stay in it? After supper there is yet to come the reading of the battle of Cher-Cheronea. 'I'll read it!'"

As they say, became an in-integral nothing in this house?"

GAS TARIFF RAISE PLEA BEING HEARD

Further hearing of the application of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for an increase in gas rates in the Eastbay cities was held today before the State Railroad Commission in Sacramento, and was devoted to a perusal of the general administrative expenses of the company which are being contested by the cities interested as being too high. Oakland was represented at the hearing by Deputy City Attorney Leon Gray.

Hearing of the case was opened in Sacramento April 6, and accord-

Police on Lookout For Escaped Convict

Police of all cities were on the lookout for Jefferson Bates, who escaped last night from San Quentin prison.

Bates was convicted of a murder in Los Angeles and was sentenced to life. He had served almost nine years. He was a trusty on the chicken farm, which is outside the prison walls.

He was being held for several days in view of the volume of evidence necessary to properly present Oakland's case. At today's hearing it was contended by Oakland that as large an increase as has been requested will not be necessary if the company's administrative expenses are cut down.

SENATE SIFTING GOUGER ROUNDUP

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Justice Department's campaign against the high cost of living is being pushed with great vigor and is expected to result in the roundup of large numbers of profiteers within thirty days. Howard A. Figg, special assistant to the Attorney-General, told the Senate sub-committee, investigating the high prices of shoes.

Figg thought it was questionable, however, whether the expected arrests of profiteers would bring about any general decline in the cost of living.

"About 1200 arrests have been made," Figg said. "Approximately 1000 indictments were returned and convictions were obtained in about 85 per cent of the cases."

"How many profiteers went to jail?" Senator Pomeroy asked.

"About twenty-five or thirty," replied Figg.

Special Legislature Session Is Urged to Curb Japanese

SAN DIEGO, April 20.—Special session of the California legislature to legislate to stop Japanese immigration into this State, was urged in a resolution presented at the forty-second annual session of the Grand Parlor N. S. G. W. today, after Stockton had been unanimously selected as the convention city for the next annual meeting.

More than 2000 members present at the Grand Parlor meeting cheered proposals that the legislature be urged to exclude Japanese from the country, prevent their monopoly of land and stop picture brides landing. Eight resolutions dealing with Asiatic immigration were introduced.

Following the business session yesterday, the Grand Parlor last night was welcomed at a banquet in the U. S. Grant hotel by A. P. Johnson Jr., president of the Chamber of Commerce and the local parlor. Fred Heitbrun, president of the City Council of San Diego, and others.

Following the memorial exercises of the grand parlor, which took place at 11 o'clock this morning, 150 automobiles were requisitioned to take the visiting delegates on a tour of the historical places around San Diego including a visit to the destroyer fleet in the harbor, to the North Island naval aviation station and to the concrete shipyard. The personnel of the destroyer fleet staged a boxing and wrestling tournament interspersed with vaudeville acts for the benefit of the Native Sons and Native Daughters. The annual report of Grand President William P. Caubus today showed a net gain to the Grand Parlor of 1761 members during the last year. The membership January 1, 1920, was 22,918, almost doubled that of twenty years ago.

Much amusement was caused yesterday when John E. McDougald, grand treasurer of the order, introduced a humorous anti-prohibition resolution.

E. A. Meserve of Los Angeles in an address on the "Mission and Accomplishments of the Native Sons," told how 1725 orphaned children had been taken care of during the year.

The resolutions committee of the Native Sons consists of W. I. Trager of Los Angeles, chairman; W. J. Bates, Sacramento; H. Dam, Wheatland; Frank L. Hart, San Francisco; Joseph Barry, Portland; William J. Dougherty, San Francisco; and State Senator W. R. Sharkey of Martinez.

Says Only Third of World Knows Christ

Two-thirds of the population of the world never heard of Christ, despite the nineteen centuries that have passed, according to statistics shown last night at the Brooklyn Presbyterian church, where the world survey of the Interchurch World Movement was explained in an illustrated lecture by Rev. Howard Kerr, pastor of the church. The facts of this world survey were further exemplified by Dr. G. W. Phillips of the Tenth Avenue Baptist church and Professor Earl G. Lindley of Mills College.

PLANNER KILLS MAN

SEATTLE, April 20.—John Raymer, 40 years old, was fatally crushed last night while at work in the planing of the Seattle Mill and Logging Company. Witnesses say Raymer's arm was caught between the rollers of a planing machine and his body drawn after it.

Japanese in Siberia Ask Army Protection

HONOLULU, T. H., April 20.—Japanese residents of Siberia have petitioned Tokyo to maintain an adequate force in Asiatic Russia to protect the lives and property of Japanese nationals, according to a Tokyo cable to the Hawaii Hochi, a local Japanese newspaper. R. Hosoi, designated by a mass meeting at Vladivostok to place the case of the Japanese in Siberia before their home government, has arrived in Tokyo, according to the Hochi's dispatch.

Insurance of plate glass began only fifty years ago.

Nichthaus's arrest followed an investigation which Edward Williams and Shelby Williams, members of the Flying Squadron, said showed that, besides paying himself a salary of $8000 a year, he made a profit of $15,000 a year on a limited capital.

The agents learned that the price code with which he marked his goods at their wholesale cost was "God Help Us X," each letter standing for a numeral from 1 to 9, the X being zero. They examined raincoats in a case and said they were marked "OD," "DD," showing that they had cost $23 and $23 each. Then they selected a coat marked "OD," said they wanted to buy it, and asked the price. Nichthaus, they reported, demanded $45, nearly 100 per cent profit, for it. Thereupon the agents charged him with violating the Lever act and arrested him.

When he and his wife, Regina, retired, Mrs. Nichthaus again tried to get him to discuss the case with her. Though he tossed wakefully all night, he would not say a word about it. At last Mrs. Nichthaus rose to prepare breakfast. No sooner had she stepped from the room than Nichthaus seized a pistol, put the muzzle to his forehead and pressed the trigger.

Albourn of the Civil Service Board that no further applications for places on the force will be received after tomorrow. ## Conservation of Juice Urged Upon Farmers

As one means of conserving hydro-electric power, a shortage of which threatens because of the low rainfall during the last three years, the State Railroad Commission is urging irrigators to operate their pumps only at night and on Sunday, if possible, and thereby not divert any power that might be needed by industries during the day and on the weekend.

It is stated there is ten times as much hydro-electric potentiality in the State as now employed, but it is not readily available, and only one of the concerns is now engaged in extension work.

Rinehart's Widow Is Made Administratrix

Superior Judge E. C. Robinson granted letters of administration to Mrs. Effie F. Rinehart for the estate of her late husband, Attorney W. B. Rinehart. The estate was stated to be of less than $10,000 value, but this is declared, does not include considerable property which Rinehart disposed of before his death through an agreement signed jointly by himself and his wife. The estate is said to have amounted to about $75,000.

Very Effective Method for Banishing Hairs

(Modes of Today)

At very little cost any woman can rid her face of hairy growths if she will use the delicate treatment. This is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This paste is spread upon the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No harm results from this treatment, but care should be used to buy real delatone.

Policeman Finds $350 In Purse; Returns It

Patrolman Eddie Frohm found a purse in a street gutter near the sixteenth street depot that contained $350. Although thousands of people had walked over and all around it since Sunday, when it was lost, it had remained undisturbed until the policeman saw it.

The officer immediately reported the find to Desk Sergeant J. H. Nederman, whose investigation disclosed the fact that it belonged to Mrs. Amelia Skelly, 260 Mather street. It was returned to her.

Great Wednesday Sale of Mill-Ends and Odds-and-Ends

The One Big Duty of the Times! To Lower the Cost of Living

This low-priced event will help with its wonderful economies

Twice a year the mills and factories from which we purchase our goods allot to us a certain portion of their mill-ends and pieces which, for slight defects in weave, have not been included in their regulars; also patterns that have been woven for samples and not made up in bolts. These goods are as dependable and fashionable as if they had been bought by the bolt, but because of their short lengths we buy them at a great price concession and are glad to help the high cost of living by passing the savings on to our customers. Lengths run from two to twenty yards.

MY HEART and HUSBAND

by ADELE GARRISON

What Alice Holcombe Demanded of Madge.

Alice Holcombe consulted her wrist watch, then pushed her chair back from the table on which our luncheon was spread.

"Sorry to be a spoil sport," she said, "but I must tell you that the first bell will ring in ten minutes."

There was a general scurrying, a hasty picking up of dishes and packing away of food, for an unwritten rule compelled us to leave our teachers' rest room in such orderly condition that no trace of our luncheon would be in evidence.

"Will you come with me, Millie, and watch the Barview youths and maidens sitting at the feet of Gamaliel plural in the persons of Mrs. Graham and me?"

Miss Holcombe frowned the question with apparent carelessness, but with eyes sharpened by worry I noticed that she was watching our principal's wife intently, listening with anxiety for her answer.

Mrs. Stockbridge waited so perceptibly before answering that we all involuntarily turned toward her. The most unobscuring woman among us could have seen that she was revolving some scheme of action in her mind.

"Thank you, but I must get along home," she said at last. "I've had a perfectly wonderful time. You must all come to luncheon with me some day. And I must tell you Mrs. Graham, how much I enjoyed that tea. Thank you so much for giving me those packets. I'm going to experiment when I get home. How shall I fix it?

I marveled at her stupidity, for she had seen me make tea but a few minutes before.

"It's the simplest thing possible," I said. "Put a packet in your teapot, and pour about four cupsful of boiling water over it. In about one minute, or at most two, you will have a delicious cup of tea."

She knut her brow for a second as if she were unhesitating to fix the directions in her mind.

"I'll remember," she said abruptly. "Good-by, everybody."

She was at the door before we had time to answer, and vanished down the stairway as we were chattering our adieux after her. Alice Holcombe's eyes caught and signaled mine. A minute later we were at the farther end of the room, ostensibly engaged in putting away the cooking utensils.

"She's gone straight down to Mr. Stockbridge's office," Mrs. Holcombe murmured, keeping her face turned away from the observation of the other teachers. "She knows there'll be no one there until after the first bell rings, and she's bound to get at that desk of his if she can."

Her face and voice low murmured though it was, expressed such consternation that I could not forbear an amazed question.

"What harm will it do if she does?" I asked, careful, however, to make my own voice an answering murmur.

"That's just what I don't know," Mrs. Holcombe returned, evidently relieved, as I was, at seeing the other teachers depart for their several classrooms. "But there's no doubt in the world that Mr. Stockbridge has private papers, letters, perhaps photographs in that desk of which his wife knows nothing. Not that I think there's anything there of which he should be ashamed—her head lifted proudly in defense of the man for whom she cared so sincerely, so hopelessly—but you can imagine how Millie would construe the most innocent souvenir of his past. I simply must know what he's doing, and I have an appointment with those derelicts I'm coaching between bells. Do you know that closet off the library where they keep the text books that are temporarily not in use?"

"Yes," I replied laconically, a bit dazed by the abruptness of the question.

Then you've seen the transom over the door which leads from the closet into the principal's office.

Miss Holcombe hurried on. "The door's locked, but the transom's open for air. I saw it this morning. Please go down there at once—go through the library, there'll be nobody there at this hour—get up on a chair you'll find in there and watch what goes on in the office."

"Oh, my dear!" I exclaimed aghast. "I can't—"

Associated Press Members Drink to President's Health

NEW YORK, April 20.—Members of The Associated Press met at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel here today to elect five directors, four advisory board members and auditing and nominating committees.

At a luncheon in connection with the meeting, President Frank B. Noyes of the Washington Star proposed a toast to President Wilson, saying:

"In offering a toast the formal wish for 'health' is usually of little significance. With us this year in the only toast that it is our custom to offer, profoundly, earnestly, hopefully and sincerely we drink to the health, the fully restored health, of the President of the United States."

"Every season of the year is an open season for the critics of The Associated Press," said Noyes, beginning his address.

"We are accustomed to the rallying against our service of the uninformed, the motley seer and the common or garden liar, who charges bias or suppression in the report of The Associated Press."

"ORGANIZED AS SERVANT. 'Every newspaperman, every informed person, knows how preposterously untrue these charges are—when they make them. To me I need explain that our very organization was in response to the demand of the newspapers that their news service should be owned and controlled by the newspapers and there served alone, that it should be their servant and not their master, that it should give an adequate and truthful record of the world's happenings, free from bias as from opinion or propaganda. While laying no claim to infallibility, our service has been singularly successful in attaining the objects we sought and the aim by The Associated Press has become a hallmark of accuracy."

"While at all times this open season continues, every four years comes a special period of tribulation. When the presidential campaign rolls around every candidate for nomination and every manager of every such candidate finds clear evidence in any report of bias or opinion."

"Every candidate mentioned—until after the election and then all agree that The Associated Press has been conspicuously fair. This has been our experience in the past and there is every indication that the present campaign will be no exception."

"I say this, for there is a measure of truth in the charge, for on the theory that 'he who is not for us is against us,' The Associated Press is against every candidate for it surely is not for any one of them."

Noyes explained that while every one of the candidates will have the support of individual members, The Associated Press will continue serenely indifferent as to the outcome of the presidential conventions and elections, contenting itself to supplying its members with the news.

"The report of The Associated Press does not grow or simply come into being without effort," continued Noyes. "Every line, every word is the product of an individual worker of whom hundreds toil and adventure daily to supply a fair picture of the world's happenings. Every one of you know that at bottom these charges of bias are charges against our anonymous workers—who if we are betrayed, are the betrayers, who if these charges are true, are recreant to the trust we have placed in them."

"EMPLOYEES' GREETING. 'You know them, you know them all division chiefs, bureau chiefs, editors, correspondents, reporters, operators, working tirelessly, faithfully, efficiently, intelligently. You know that these men are the salt of the earth, the pride of our profession.'"

Noyes introduced Vice-President Marshall as the principal speaker at the luncheon.

The five retiring directors were re-elected by acclamation at the annual meeting of the Associated Press.

And that is why Simmons Company is specializing in Twin Beds. One sleeper does not disturb the other or communicate colds and other infections.

Simmons Steel Beds, Brass Beds, Springs, Day Beds and Children's Cribs are the most popular sleeping equipment in America today—in the stores of leading merchants all over the country.

Your choice of very beautiful designs in Enameled Steel and Lacquered Brass—at prices little if any higher than for ordinary beds.

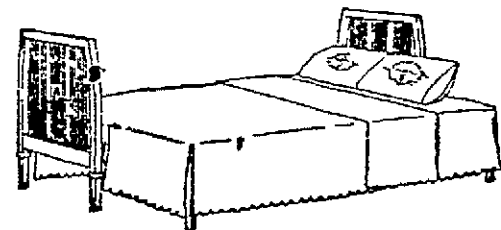

And when you are selecting your Simmons Beds with an eye to their appearance in the room, you will see that Simmons has for the first time established beautiful and authoritative design in Metal Beds.

ANOTHER NURSE
PRAISES TANLAC

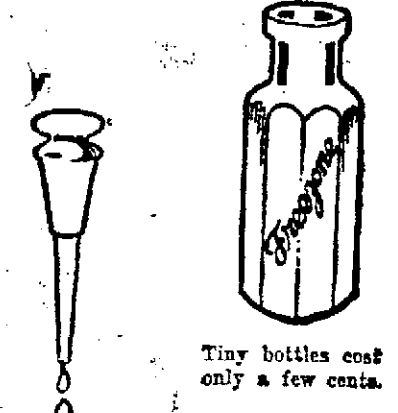

Mrs. Alice Minick, who has been a professional nurse for thirty-six years and resides at 1815 Twenty-third ave., Seattle, Wash., has been one of the hundreds of others in this profession who have already endorsed Tanlac.

"Since I began taking Tanlac I have not only gained twenty pounds in weight, but for the first time in sixteen years I am free of my old and annoying good health," stated Mrs. Minick. "I constantly had cramping, gnawing pains in my stomach, all sorts of my appetite was extremely poor and the little I did eat caused me great distress. After every meal my food began to ferment and I became badly run down, lost weight and strength, and felt so tired and worn out all the time I could hardly get around. I had pains in every part of my body just about all the time, but they were especially bad in my head and back. I also suffered with severe headaches and dizzy spells, and my nerves were so bad, I could not sleep. I could not sleep one night without waiting all night long."

"I had heard so much of the good Tanlac was doing for others, I decided to try it myself, and it proved to be the very thing I needed. I began to improve right away. It was only a few days before my appetite returned and I can now eat anything I want with- out having a particle of trouble after- wards. Those terrible gnawing pains that had troubled me so many years have entirely disappeared. I never have a headache or become dizzy, and the pains that were throughout my body have all gone. In fact, my whole system has been built up by Tanlac. I have regained my strength so I can do my work as a nurse, which keeps me on my feet for hours, day and night, without a particle of trouble. Several of my patients have taken Tanlac, and it has proven bene- ficial in every case. I know what Tanlac has done for me. I can never say so, but I can give twenty pounds in weight to Tanlac in San Francisco, and I am glad to see the Ovi Drug Company makes an advertisement."

She was besides a conspicuous fig- ure in the English Club, sharing in the dramatic production of her class since her freshman year. Last year she played a leading part in the Parthenon.

FOUND REMEDY FOR NEURITIS

It is impossible to have thin blood and strong nerves. The nerves depend on the blood for nourishment and if the blood is thin nervous troubles are certain to follow in time.

Sometimes starvation of the nerves results in neuritis. Sometimes there is a nervous breakdown accompanied by nervous headache and indigestion.

When neuritis is the result of weak blood victims of the disease are almost certain to obtain relief by following the treatment which Mr. Henry Ayers, of No. 414, East Second and South street, Salt Lake City, Utah, describes.

"I had neuritis pains all over my body," relates Mr. Ayers, "but the pain was worst in my hands. There was a prickling sensation in my arms, as though they were asleep. Often my arms became numb and I had to rub them before there was any circulation in them. I became very nervous and trembled a great deal. I was worried over my condition and became greatly discouraged.

A booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System," which tells about neuritis, will be sent free on request by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Box 1000, Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.—Advertisement.

LETTER FROM MRS. BRUCE

Tells Remarkable Story of Sickness and Recovery.

Brookburg, Ind.—"When I was a young girl I clerked in my father's store and one day I lifted heavy boxes which caused displacement and I suffered greatly. I was married at the age of 18 and went to a doctor about my trouble and he said if I had a child I would be all right. After three years twins came to us and I did get all right but three years later a baby boy came and I was troubled again. I could scarcely do any work at all and suffered for four years. A neighbor told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it for a year or more. Now I have a baby girl and I can do anything you like with my letter to help others."

—Mrs. J. M. Bruce, R. F. D. 3, Brookburg, Ind. The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for more than forty years. If there are any complications you cannot understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). ## HALL CLEARED OF BURGLARY CHARGE

After being under fire for several months on a charge of burglary, J. H. Hall, formerly a floor manager in the employ of a local department store, was granted exoneration this morning when Police Judge George Samuels dismissed the case against him on account of lack of evidence. Arthur Annensen, who was tried at the same time, was held to answer to the Superior Court on a charge of burglary and bail was fixed at $3000. An attempt was made by the police to prove that a conspiracy had existed between the two defendants for the purpose of defrauding the store. It was alleged that Hall, working from the inside, had supplied Annensen with names of credit customers and that through these names Annensen had obtained merchandise. A large check of merchandise was recovered at the time Annensen was arrested in November. The judge ruled that there was not sufficient evidence to show that Hall was implicated.

Cuticura Talcum Always Healthful

GIVEN UP TO DIE OF STOMACH TROUBLE

But Mr. Baker is well now. Feels like he did at sixteen.

"One year ago in September I was taken down; couldn't eat, sleep or work. The doctors didn't know exactly what was the matter. Some said I had catarrhal gastritis, and others, cancer. Anyway, I was given up to die.

"A friend persuaded me to try Milk Emulsion. In 2 or 3 weeks the sores went out of my lungs, the pains vanished from between my shoulders, and I began to eat and sleep, and work. Also the miserable lonesome feeling began to tear loose and that heavy weight on the left side of my stomach, that hung like a huge iron ball, disappeared.

"By the time I had taken 21 bottles, I could eat anything, sleep like an infant, and the old time vim came back. I felt like I did when I was 16."—Lyman Baker, Star Route, Berreville, Ark.

Got the stomach and bowels working right, and most ailments start to leave. Milk Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a purifier of flesh and strength, Milk Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in restoring and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only milk emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children. No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles with you use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk Emulsion Co., Toronto, Canada, is sold by druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

How to Judge a Woman By Her Hair

There is real common sense in just noting whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, or good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good shampoo. You can enjoy the very best by getting some excellent hair dressing, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough hair is easy to apply it to all the hair, instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

LICENSE PLATES ON SING'S AUTO HAD ODD DATES

PIEDMONT, April 20.—Chew Sing, Chinese vegetable peddler, is not a collector of antiques, he told Judge G. T. Burchell this morning. The reason that he drives his machine with a 1917 license plate in front and a 1918 plate in the rear is that, he claims, the state motor vehicle department has failed to send him a new license for two years back. He claims to have sent the money, but says he did not receive the license. He had not received an operator's license either, so the total fine was $10. Chew Sing paid it with a check, bowed and smiled, and said, "Thank you, judge."

$50 Reward Offered For Girl's Murderer

PIEDMONT, April 20.—Rewards offered for the capture of the criminal who murdered Ula Carlson on the night of March 14, 1919, are $50. ## REQUA ANSWERS PINCHOT ATTACK

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Mark L. Regua of Oakland in a statement to the press of the United States, answers the attack on the Hoover food administration made by Gifford Pinchot. Regua was chief of the division of organization in the food administration and later became oil director in the United States fuel administration.

Characterizing Pinchot as an "impractical idealist who brooks no interference and who demands the carrying out of his policies regardless of the ideas of others or the practical business operation involved," Regua made public a letter which Hoover as food administrator wrote Pinchot accepting the latter's resignation.

LETTER PRESENTED

The Hoover-to-Pinchot letter follows: "My Dear Pinchot: I greatly regret to receive your letter of resignation, and I am deeply pained by the unfair terms in which I feel it is expressed.

"You have urged insistently during the past two months that we should announce to the American farmer some definite monetary guarantee for all crops marketed within the next twelve or sixteen months, the price to be such as would stimulate production. I have repeatedly informed you that while I should like to be glad to see a guarantee that protected both producer and consumer, any promise or assurance of this kind would be absolutely dishonest to the farmer unless it is backed by an absolute monetary undertaking from responsible quarters. This would involve responsibility for $1,000,000,000 and the only quarters for such a guarantee would be the United States Treasury or a contact with the allies to take the whole excess production, or a guarantee by the packers, under which they take the risk. You know we have no power of appropriation from Congress to give the first assurance, that the allies based upon a limitation of their liability to the per cent of the production they require, and that the packers decline unless one of the two others stand behind it.

"RESIGNATION ACCEPTED. "Your retort is that we could bring moral pressure upon the packer to make him do it, at his own risk, or that if we take a chance Congress must come to our rescue, because we are not willing, as you state, to 'take a chance' and possibly involve somebody for $1,000,000,000 you resign.

"In any event I am simply not going to give assurances to the American farmer that are not honestly protected, no matter how great the objective. I have gone the utmost limit in assuring him that we will do our best with our control of export buying to maintain a fair price.

"We need and wish an increase in pork production, but we will not lose the war through a shortage in this commodity alone. A failure will mean privation to the American people, but it will not mean defeat.

"While I should like to have in the future a more definite assurance from the American farmer requires a promise note from the government in order to stimulate his patriotic exertion in the national interest in this crisis.

"You stated to me that the committee upon which I appointed you to undertake a campaign for the voluntary increase in animal production by the farmers had failed, therefore suggested to you that you undertake a mission to France in food matters. This, I understand, you decline, and therefore I must accept your resignation."

The daguerotype was invented just a century ago.

MAGNESITE AND CHROME.

A post-war situation which will react with profit to Alameda county and to other parts of California is that which has caused a decrease in the imports of magnesite and a certainty that but little of that material will be shipped to this country during the next few years. The California product will continue to be used in the manufacture of cement, for material for floors, for outside stucco and imitation marble and a steady and profitable market is predicted.

Last year California produced 42,000 tons of crude magnesite, one-half of what it produced in 1917, and Washington's output was 120,000 tons. The production of the country—and Washington and California—are the main producing states, fell off about 30 percent but was nevertheless greater than in any year prior to 1917. As late as June in last year it was predicted that the imports from Europe would break the local market and make a business in which this country is keenly interested no longer profitable. It was this prediction that caused the falling off of production. Those men who have remained in the business are now informed that the expected imports did not come and that the market is remaining firm.

The value of magnesite products in building is being demonstrated to an increasingly large number of contractors so that the demand for the material will gain at a rate which is expected to keep pace with the increase in imports of the next few years. Domestic producers, then, may find encouragement in the situation which means a continuation of their business.

The chromite situation is less promising. Production in the United States fell last year from the 42,687 tons of 1918 to 3,900 tons, and of this amount California supplied nearly 2,000 tons. The remainder came mostly from Oregon, Wyoming and Maryland. Prices have been falling since the armistice and it is believed that the low level has not yet been reached.

Those who began mining chromite during the war under agreements with the War Department have found that continued operations have not been profitable and many of the mines have closed. The department is still busy adjusting claims made by men who went to considerable expense to supply the chromite when it was needed and who were out of pocket for having done so.

The increase of high-grade ore from Guatemala and competition from India, Rhodesia, New Caledonia and Brazil, has caused the drop in prices.

In an effort to maintain the industry against this competition the largest plant in the state, the Placer Chrome Company, has moved its mill to the mine and is reducing expense in every possible way. It is thought that when the prices are finally regulated that chromite will continue to be a California product, although on a scale, perhaps, no larger than that before the war.

In any event there is satisfaction in the knowledge that in another case of emergency, the California fields have the chromite that is so necessary in the making of war material.

THE OVERALL SPASM.

Unless the "Overall Club" idea which is spreading over the country like a blanket of blue denim is dissipated by a flow of argument or a rise in the price of the overalls, Oakland may expect to see a good proportion of its citizens garbed as toilers.

The idea seems to be of the kind that takes a ready hold upon the people. Whole communities have given in to it and fines have been imposed for the failure of certain few to observe the rules. Ministers, bankers and bricklayers have fared forth to work in the same time-honored costume—and the H. C. L. sits high in the wings and laughs.

It is not so much the relation of blue jeans to economics that is to be proved as is the value of publicity and the spectacular in boycotts. The attention of the country will be centered for a while on the price of men's clothing and if any victory is to be won it is to be hoped that at the close it is not found that the prices of any number of other things have gone up during the excitement. It is also to be hoped that the manufacturer of men's clothing will see the point of the protest in time to afford some relief to the retailer who bears the brunt of the price raising that was done at the point of production.

Aside from the economics there will be a sartorial pleasure afforded the public in the manner in which certain well-known citizens appear in the latest overall creations.

GAME LAW UPHELD.

There is to be no change in the provisions of the migratory bird act and those hunters and lovers of game as food will do well to arrange their excursions to the lakes and the restaurants on the same schedules that have obtained. Not only will the game hog and the pothunter continue to be discouraged but the same short seasons for sportsmen and the same restrictions against the sale of geese, ducks and other birds will remain in force.

The act was passed in fulfillment of treaty obligations with Canada and is a reciprocal agreement which protects the birds in their migrations from the north to the waters of the United States and back. The test case came from Missouri where a game warden appealed to the United States supreme court against the action of his State in enforcing the law and where he acted in the interests of those who believed that the game should be purchasable in the markets.

As a result of the court's action the public's acquaintance with wild fowl will continue to be slight but it is also more than likely to continue in the years to come.

News that the spelling reformers have given up the job comes as a blow to those who have figured that their mistakes would be laid to their following the new school.

This idea of pulling up the overalls to pull down the overhead is a new one in economics.

The Michigan wind upset a lot of straw votes.

NOTES and COMMENT

There has been a good deal of the army thing in the last five years and the army worm is keeping it up. Thus we hear of their advance in serried ranks in the Buena Vista lake section of Kern county and of various barrages being devised to check their onward march. Looks as though the saying will have to be changed to "just one army thing after another."

The railroad strike, which eventuated in spite of railroad men themselves, is over, but it may not be the part of wisdom to waste too much time in congratulating ourselves over the fact. This was the second of the kind that occurred within a year and the wise thing will be to think up some way to prevent a third.

When Representative Upshaw of Georgia walked down the halls of Congress in a pair of overalls, all turned up at the bottom and everything, defying the clothing profiteer, there ought to be regret that there is not another Ingersoll to apotheosize him into another plumed knight.

Fresno is soon to have its yearly raisin day. If the interest in non-raisin growing sections is not quite as acute as it was it might be remembered that soon after the celebration last year a recipe was unduly created that raisins, dropped into whatever you are concocting, will give it a kick, boosting the price so that for fun use they were well high prohibitive.

The Retail Grocers are to be addressed Thursday by Controller John S. Chambers, and their slogan for the occasion is to be "Eat More Bread." If anybody can get people in a frame of mind to eat more of something than they otherwise would it is Chambers, with his fine persuasive way.

When a lot of people began wearing overalls, a protest against the high price of clothing that observant manipulators boosted the price of the humble garments so that it hit the engineers and others who wear them as real clothing. The demonstration was quite picturesque, though its effect not altogether expected.

Simon and Snow, the hunters of wild African game, offer this city a lion dollar's worth of films if it puts through the $3,000,000 bond issue for a museum building. They are hunting with the camera as well as with firearms. The proposition ought to be explained more fully, for there is danger of losing votes through it not being understood.

Somebody has raked up a prophecy by Bismarck to the effect that Wilhelm Hohenzollern, then the boy Kaiser, would be either dead or insane in three years. Well, he isn't dead.

The name of Henry Ford has been registered in Vermont, which gives him place on the presidential primary ticket. As nobody heard a noise like an objection from him or saw a disclaimer it must be concluded that he is not averse and that another hat has gone in the ring.

"Oregon hopes to reach Sonora in a fortnight." Is this a sort of replica of Sheridan's ride? The battle is on, with Oregon more than twenty miles away. But it is difficult to realize the poetry with the heroic coming in an automobile, as he probably is, instead of on a foamed horse, as he arrived in Buchanan Read's poem.

The momentary astonishment produced by a conspicuous heading which announced that "Johnston Quits Political Race" is dispelled by a further reading to the effect it is School Director Johnston of Richmond. Also it might have been noticed that the name was spelled with a "J."

And now Popocatepetl is in eruption again. Necessitating looking it up and seeing just where it is and everything, which includes asking somebody how to pronounce it.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

A horse recently was carried by a train. Next thing we know, really as well as figuratively in the price of beef, the cow will be jumping over the moon. In many respects Mother Goose was a good deal of a prophet.

A milk can exploded near Yuba City, killing a man severely about the head and face. Milk is not what it used to be when the worst thing that happened to it was that it mingled with water. But wait a minute, this man was cleaning a can with oil and kerosene when it blew up. Got to feeling like an automobile, maybe.

HANDLING LABOR OUTLAWS.

The switchmen are engaged in a line of industrial warfare which does more injury to the cause of labor than the combined efforts of all the anti-unionists and open-shop advocates in the country. Nothing is more certain to drive the American people to drastic policies in dealing with industrial questions than the responsibility of labor. Unless it demonstrates its readiness to adhere to contracts and to abide by orderly processes for adjusting difficulties it is going to be handled as other irresponsible bodies have been handled when they become a menace to public welfare.—Chicago Evening Post.

TO THE RESCUE!

WANTED—FEWER TIN-HORN DUDES

(A. G. Staples in the Lewiston, Maine, Journal.)

What are I yawning about? Nothing but work. That's all—that obsolete thing—for many boys at least—work! Mollifying laws and fustibudgeting rules about work for boys has driven home the notion that toil is a disgrace for the boy who can possibly avoid it and whose "old man" is a meal ticket and a good one at that.

Up the back to the collar and a bunch of "Lucky Strikes" per diem. I can see them, every day, many of them too all-fired lazy to walk across the river from Auburn to go to the afternoon movies and needs must board the trolley for a seven-cent ride that would require about four minutes of the walking that their royal highnesses cannot endure. And so they board a street car for a three-hundred yard ride and while away their vacations in the movies. If they condescend to ask for a position they are suited with nothing less than eighty cents an hour with double time and time and a half and all the perquisites of the fifteen-minutes lee-way for the wash-up and late-in.

Am I wrong? I want to be shown to the contrary; for such is the experience in a hundred instances within my immediate purview. I doubt the aspiration and the ambition of the modern stall-fed youth. I doubt the value of modern mollycoddling and allowance system of bringing up youth of both sexes. I doubt the introduction of childhood to the easy-money road of spend-thrift ways. A few days ago a boy confessed in a Lewiston office to a theft of money which he said was brought about by going "with too swift a gang." Eats, sodas, ice creams, car-rides, movies, all of them had eaten into his allowance of $2.00 a week and he stole a lot of money to make good.

Old-fashioned dads had no such experiences. Nobody ever gave me five dollars in the whole experience of my boyhood and I never owned a five-dollar bill until, aged 16, I earned it teaching school in a country district at $5 a week—no, $20 a month—and board. And I was then going to college and paying my own way and carrying my grub in my pocket. We old-fashioned boys knew about money because we had to earn it. We knew what enjoyment there was in accomplishment.

That's the trouble with modern education. It has been easy to entice boys to work of late at around $24 a week because it was fashionable and supposed to be "winning the war," but when you see a real boy digging in the ditch and making frescoes on the paving with a six-foot hoe and yarding with the shovel, you see something that is worth while and that speaks for hope in the rising generation.

Let us have fewer tin-horn dudes and more lads with a purpose. "DAY OF REST AND GLADNESS." The old New England Sabbath has broken down. Christians by their own altered practices have had something to do with breaking it down. But the Christian Lord's Day has not perished. It will but, it was made for man to benefit his physical, intellectual and spiritual life. It never ought to be just like any other day in the week. Let us take hold together and make it for ourselves and others as far as we can influence them "a day of rest and gladness," a day of growth and service.—Congregationalist.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. D., M. P.
(Johns Hopkins University)

Mothers ought to nurse baby, even if they feel at first that they haven't an abundant supply of milk. As the infant nurses, and the mother is in normal condition of health, the supply of the life-giving substance may increase in time. It is important, however, to remember that baby must have enough food, and that food must be regularly given, just as your own meals should be regularly served.

Never let the infant go hungry. He will let you know whether or not he has had enough food. He cries if he feels himself cheated.

PROPER FEEDING HOURS

Sometimes baby tries to be a little glutton. Do not let him. Fifteen minutes is long enough to feed any normal infant and twenty minutes is the limit. If he wants more after that, and the amount you have fed him was from normal breasts, let him cry if he so desires. It will not hurt him to exercise his lungs and muscles a bit. He will stop when he has had enough of it and snuggly rest beneath his blankets to sail into slumberland.

About three hours after nursing is not too long to wait, if baby is strong enough to hold out. A physician rarely needs to order more frequent feeding than at three-hour intervals. When baby is older, he can wait longer. If he gets seven nursings in 24 hours, he should be made to receive the food at the following intervals:

6 A. M.
9 A. M.
12 M.
3 P. M.
6 P. M.
8 or 10 P. M.

Once during the night.
If the youngster gets six nursings a day your family physician will most likely order the following intervals:

6 A. M.
9 A. M.
12 M.
3 P. M.
6 P. M.
10 P. M. or later.

Baby will surely not object if you offer him some cool, boiled water between his regular meals. He will enjoy the refreshment, and will be more patient for his milk. This is especially welcome when the weather is hot and uncomfortable.

PROBLEMS OF WEANING

It is quite a tragedy in every infant's life to be weaned from the breast. Some babies even register their protest by becoming ill. For this reason, if you must wean baby to another food, do not do so in spring or summer. If little John or Mary must be deprived of mother's milk before the safe age of ten months it is better to wait until the summer is over. If, however, you cannot feed the little bundle of humanity possibilities over the summer months, wean the baby in the spring. Wean the baby gradually, with up the needed amount with milk whose preparation was ordered by your trusted physician. In a few weeks baby will adjust himself to his new food, and thrive well, because a good foundation for health has been laid up to this time.

A REMEDY FOR INDUSTRIAL UNREST

The Irvine National Bank of New York has issued a pamphlet from which by limiting his purchases to cash, speech recently delivered by Mr. L. B. Nichols, president of the bank, is a careful study, treating as it does of the "Industrial and Economic Unrest" both operating to reduce the high cost of living.

Mr. Nichols explains that the high cost of living is largely due to underproduction, both during the war and since the signing of the armistice. The remedy, as he points out, is increased production. Reference is made to the fact that the war has increased production of many goods, but that the war has also increased the demand for these goods, and that the war has also increased the cost of production. The result is that the cost of living has increased. Mr. Nichols explains that the high cost of living is largely due to underproduction, both during the war and since the signing of the armistice. ## BOARD PROJECTS SCHOOL REVISION

New free text books in English and history are to be distributed at the beginning of the school year in July, according to a communication received by the Alameda County Board of Education from Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, calling attention to the arrangements for their introduction.

Acting on this notification, the county board will begin the revision of the course of study at once. Principals and teachers have been invited to forward suggestions to the board touching the method and scope of the subjects taught in the schools.

Dates also have been fixed in May and June for the examination of pupils for graduation from the grammar grades in all of the district schools outside of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley. Heretofore these have been held in central points for various districts, but now they will be given in regular school hours under direction of the teacher or principal. The dates are:

May 14, spelling, literature, physiology, hygiene; May 21, grammar, geography; May 28, arithmetic and history; June 4, spelling, literature, physiology and hygiene; June 11, grammar and geography.

500 Women Delegates to Convention Are Welcomed

Home Problems Are Discussed
With General Plans for
Their Solution

By EDNA B. KINARD

The nineteenth annual convention of Alameda district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, was inaugurated promptly and with spirit at 11 o'clock this morning in the Adelphi club house in Alameda. More than 500 women, from all parts of Alameda, Contra Costa, San Joaquin, Tuolumne, and Calaveras counties, were in their places when Mrs. Claude Leech of Walnut Creek, district president, called the important conference on home problems to order. A membership rally and roll call followed by luncheon in honor of the visiting delegates concluded the preliminary session.

Frank Otis, mayor of Alameda, and Mrs. A. O. Gott, president of the local board, welcomed the convention this afternoon, with Mrs. R. Rogers of Hayward making the response on behalf of the club women. Presentation of Mrs. Aaron Schless, president of California Federation of Women's Clubs, and the annual address of Mrs. Leech, were features of the session.

BAN ON POTATOES FROM AUSTRALIA

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—M. P. Thomas & Company announced today that Washington had refused them a permit to import 2,000,000 pounds of Australian potatoes which they had planned to bring here within the next three weeks to retail at 6 cents a pound.

The refusal of a permit was based on the fact that the department of agriculture has made no survey of Australia to determine whether the potato crop there is free from disease.

HOUSEWIVES SEEK AID IN BOYCOTT

Overall, gingham, telephone rates, patrol of wharves, destruction of fruit, criticism of police judges and corner groceries were some of the matters given attention by the Oakland State Housewives League meeting in the council chambers of the City Hall.

Business and professional men of Oakland will be urged to don the overall as a means of reducing the high cost of wearing apparel. The government will be asked to throw into the market the garments which are held in reserve. Women will wear old clothes. Gingham at 75 cents and $1 a yard with necessary laundering are pronounced expensive and luxurious. But one housewife present had a new dress. It was made from a castoff suit of her husband.

Preliminary action was taken looking toward a reduction of telephone rates from the Burleson wartime scale. An investigating committee was appointed which will advise with the State Railroad Commission.

A lookout committee will be named to patrol the wharves during the fruit season. Their business will be to ascertain if fruit and vegetables are dumped into the bay or otherwise destroyed. It was charged that canneries dumped underweight cans which government regulations did not permit them to put on the market. A committee was empowered to take the matter up with the sealers of weights and measures.

Police Judge George Samuels will receive a deputation of housewives, who will offer protest to small fines of $10 in the case of men convicted of gouging the public in the sale of foodstuffs. Corner groceries which charge consumers greater prices than downtown stores were moved.

Potatoes again came in for boycott. Hotels and cafes will be asked to join the movement. A potato planting campaign will be sponsored by the league. Mrs. A. C. Kalas presided as chairman yesterday.

Fruitvale State Housewives League will meet on Thursday at 1:30 p. m. in the hall at Twenty-third street and Fruitvale avenue to discuss important subjects relating to high costs.

DIVORCE HUSBAND

Mrs. Susan Eisenhuth, wife of Thomas V. Eisenhuth, owner of an auto repair shop in Berkeley, has obtained a divorce on her allegations that her husband had been drinking and was nearly unconscious. She was granted a decree with custody of her baby and $25 a month maintenance by Judge A. P. St. Sure.

An unnamed co-respondent in the divorce action of Frank W. Stags against Mrs. Hazel V. Stags was not satisfied with the Stags' wife, who is 21 years old, but also appropriated his name, according to testimony of Judge A. P. St. Sure, who granted Stags a decree in the court of Judge St. Sure.

Judge Trabucco also granted a decree to Mrs. Dorothy DuLay from Claude C. DuLay, who it was testified, had written her on divorce papers with the eighteen engineers he was through with all women and his wife could get a divorce or do anything she pleased. He formerly was with the American Express company.

Leagues and Buying Clubs Are Criticized by Grocers

Charging that they represent unfair competition, cooperative buying clubs, such as have been formed by employees of certain local institutions, shipyard stores and other places where supplies are sold at or near cost, are made the objects of an attack launched by the California Retail Grocers' and Merchants' Association.

"On April 17," says an article in the Retail Grocers' Advocate, the official magazine, "our San Francisco local association sent a circular letter to the wholesale and manufacturing trade embodying the resolutions adopted at the last regular meeting of the association, stating that it would look with decided disfavor upon wholesalers and manufacturers selling to bank clerks, insurance companies, and federal employees buying groups, as well as shipyard and company stores operating at cost, selling the employees groceries in some instances at less than the wholesale price, charging the entire overhead to shipbuilding or manufacturing—unfair competition." The most flagrant tyrants.

Replies from wholesalers indicate that a large number are pledged to make no sales to the group buyers and cooperative stores. Others have ignored the communication from the grocers. "Only today we refused to supply a federal institution with merchandise which would have been subsequently sold to their employees," is a declaration of Hagg Brothers. Getz Brothers say: "We fully realize that if this evil spreads it will mean that the retail grocery business will be practically wiped out. Sussman-Wormser state their position in few words: "We will not accept any business from cooperative stores conducted on a non-profit basis."

"We are not selling and will not in the future sell any of the buying organizations mentioned in your communication," is the promise of Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Libby, McNeill & Libby, Wellman, Peck & Co., Hooper & Jennings and William Cluff Company are others who are listed on a roll of honor by the grocers as refusing to sell to the cooperative organizations.

HOUSEWIVES CRITICIZED

Housewives Leagues, organized to foster legislation to reduce the cost of living are characterized as "ridiculous" in the latest issue of the magazine, which contains the following account of a meeting of the Oakland league at the city hall on Monday:

"Mrs. A. C. Williams, in an address to the Oakland Chapter of the Housewives League at the city hall on Monday, this week, made the usual ridiculous statement that wholesalers were dumping from the wharves in order to keep up prices. "That meeting," she also adopted the usual resolution that markets be established where the farmers may come and sell the housewives direct. "That meeting," she also adopted the usual resolution that markets be established where the farmers may come and sell the housewives direct. "That meeting," she also adopted the usual resolution that markets be established where the farmers may come and sell the housewives direct.

Another article is headed the "Save Meat Week Joke," and discusses the "Same Money on Meat Week" campaign of the Housewives Leagues. It says in part:

"The cheaper meat campaign again demonstrated that we are on a spending spree, an orgy of extravagance and do not wish cheaper cuts of tough meat. It is too difficult to butcher and besides, the ladies have no time to stay at home to cook it all day to get it tender. Let us 'step on the gas' and turn 'er loose—we're going to live anyhow 'till we die.'"

WOMEN ARE BEAMED

Still another article is devoted to a discussion of the "Save Money on Meat Week" drive and is headed "The Women are Beamed." It says in part:

"Apartment houses are to blame for women demanding bulky choice cuts," according to C. B. Schmidt, retail butcher of Oakland, "since housewives don't like the smell of roasts and buy steaks and chops and choice cuts."

"The movies are the cause," according to Robert N. Weiss, secretary of the Butchers' Board of Trade in San Francisco and Alameda counties.

"Women are too anxious for a good time and do not want to devote any time to cooking," according to Weiss.

RECALL PETITION SIGNED BY 978

The first day of the circulation of the recall petitions against Commissioners Frederick Soderberg, W. H. Edwards and P. F. Morse yesterday resulted in the securing of 978 signatures against each of the city officials under fire, according to an announcement made this morning by the Oakland Citizens' Committee. A total number of 5420 signatures is required for calling the recall election.

Additional verification deputies to canvass for signatures to the petitions were appointed today in the office of the city clerk, bringing the total number of official deputies up to 32 today. Statements from the recall headquarters were to the effect that 100 deputies will be in the field by the end of the week.

In a statement issued today, L. C. Fraser, chairman of the recall committee, asked for donations from those interested in the citizens' committee's program of government and stated that small donations from a large number of people were desired rather than large subscriptions from a small number.

Announcement of the commission's candidates, Colonel Ralph P. Kane, W. E. Whelan and R. W. Littlefield, will not be made, according to Fraser, until the petitions are submitted.

Ship That Hit Bar Undergoing Repairs

ALAMEDA, April 20.—The Fred Linderman steamer Bee, which went ashore at the entrance to Humboldt bay recently, is on the ways at the Barnes & Tibbitts yard, being repaired.

The Barnes & Tibbitts yard is also cleaning and painting the government ferry tug hull Fort Lewis, one of the wooden hulks built on the Ferris round-bottom design for war rush work, but never equipped with engines.

PEACE PROPOSED IN ESTATE FIGHT

With brother and sister, the one administrator for the estate of the father, the other for that of the mother, battling in the court of Superior Judge E. C. Robinson to force the estate to close up that estate first, an unique situation has arisen in Alameda county probate proceedings.

John S. Kimball died at the family home, 775 Kimball avenue, in June, 1918, leaving an estate valued at several hundred thousand dollars. His widow, Mrs. Helen S. Kimball, died in November of the same year, leaving a separate estate of about $50,000, according to documents on file. A son, C. E. Kimball, was appointed administrator of the father's estate and a daughter, Miss Helen W. Kimball, administratrix of the mother's estate. The son claims the father's estate cannot be closed until the mother's is settled and that his sister is refusing to file an inventory because she wishes to include therein one-half of the father's estate.

Judge Robinson intimated that the attorney fees might be much smaller in case the father's estate were distributed directly to the heirs without passing through the mother's estate, and said the estates would be probated in the interests of the heirs. He ordered that an inventory be filed within thirty days.

MONTH FULFILLS PORTA FORECAST

With nineteen days of April having passed, a summary of the weather and climatic conditions as predicted for this month by Prof. Albert F. Porta and printed in the TRIBUNE on April 1 could have been used as a program by the regular weather man. With only slight variations the predictions of Porta for the first eighteen days of April came to pass.

Porta predicted that between April 3 and 6, due to the oppositions of Venus with Mercury and Neptune, an eruption would occur somewhere on the Pacific coast as this portion of the country would be subject to the sun spots which would cause the outbreak. He therefore predicted that the Lesser eruption of Lassen or April 3-Lassen peak shot forth great clouds of smoke and ashes and then died down.

The same conditions that would cause the eruption, said Porta, would occur again between April 8-12, and again between April 17-23. Although the same condition would exist, Porta said, it did not necessarily follow that an eruption would occur between the last two periods, owing to the different planets affected. Porta said, however, that between April 23-29 there will be another eruption of Lassen or of Mount Vesuvius or some Hawaiian or Mexican volcano.

Porta predicted mild weather conditions with scattering rains along the Pacific coast. Between April 1-4 records show "mild weather conditions along Pacific coast with scattering rains."

Porta also hit the weather almost to the day from April 4 until today. From out of Mexico today comes the news that the volcano Popocatepetl is in eruption, and that a severe earthquake shock was felt in Mexico City and Vera Cruz at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Glancing back over the weather and climatic forecast of Prof. Porta, the following extract on seismic disturbance is particularly interesting:

"Period 3—April 17-23, produced by the accumulation of the electromagnetic energies of the sunspots, which will be generated by the oppositions of Venus with Neptune, Jupiter and Saturn, respectively, occurring on April 1, 5 and 19, the last being very violent."

ASK THE TRIBUNE

A Department of Questions and Answers

Questions pertaining to the application of the law to specific cases, such as collection of damages, divorce decrees and property rights, will not be answered in this column—Editor.

Editor The TRIBUNE: Would like to inquire if city bonds in any foreign country would lose their value if government would go into bankruptcy or would change from one nation to another or into another form of government. Would it be dangerous to keep such bonds or to buy more?—P. CLAIR.

A change in the form of national government would not effect city bonds. The city alone is responsible for the paper it issues and not the national government. If you refer to the Lyons and Marseilles, France, bonds, you are quite safe in keeping what you have.

Editor The TRIBUNE: (1) Is Joaquin Miller's home in Alameda or Contra Costa county? (2) And what day of the week did March 13, 1883, come on?—P. N.

(1) Alameda county. (2) Tuesday.

Editor The TRIBUNE: Can you give me the names and addresses of several lumber companies operating in Southern Oregon or Northern California?—G. E.

Sunset, E. K. Wood, Tilden and many other companies with offices here and in San Francisco operate in these woods. Redwood Export Company, 250 California street, San Francisco, can perhaps place you in the redwood area or the Douglas Fir Export and Export company, 250 California, in the pine and maple. Vere W. Hunter, Plaza building, Oakland, is secretary of local lumbermen.

Editor The TRIBUNE: My grandmother died twenty years ago and left a estate to my mother in trust for her use only, but she cannot touch the principal. In case of my mother's death the money is to be divided equally among her children. Can I loan money of my share before her death?—SUBSCRIBER.

No. This property must remain intact until your mother's death. It is held in trust by her only and she cannot dispose of this trust by disposing of the money. In the case of money, the disposal is subject to her discretion so far as investment is concerned.

Editor The TRIBUNE: To whom can I apply to get into a Berkeley orchestra?—A. SUBSCRIBER.

Ed. Embs, Hotel Whitecourt, Berkeley, is conductor of the Berkeley orchestra. See him.

Editor The TRIBUNE: I am a widower, have a boy aged 15, for whom I have been paying $25 a month. I have recently married again and cannot pay above amount, as I get but $10 a month. How old will be if the $25 is amount awarded by court in divorce or support proceedings, the amount can be out only at discretion of court on your showing that it is impossible for you to pay and that the boy has ample support otherwise.

Your responsibility for the support of your son exists until he is 21 years old. As it is your duty to aid in keeping the boy in school and support him until he is of legal age, you could expect no reduction in this amount by a court except on a showing that the mother or other relatives caring for him are amply able and willing to assume the expense. You might get a court order for custody of the boy.

Editor The TRIBUNE: 1. Is there any premium on a Columbian half dollar, world's fair, Chicago? 2. Is spirit of camphor or camphorated oil used in reducing fat?—A. E. F. F.

1. Rare Coin Encyclopedia says the first Columbia half dollar sold for $10.00, but the rest are worth only 10 cents. 2. Doctor declares that neither of these is recognized as a remedy for superfluous fat.

Editor The TRIBUNE: How can I blue a rifle barrel?—J. E. H.

Only an expert can blue a rifle barrel. Charley King, 811 Tenth, does this work. To blue the barrel it must be taken out, boiled and cleaned until it is spotless, then an acid which starts rust must be put on the barrel and it must be scrubbed every day for two weeks with a steel brush.

Editor The TRIBUNE: When did the S. S. Lapland reach New York, when did she leave and on what day will she return?—C. W. M.

This boat arrived at New York March 28, left that port April 3 for Antwerp and would require from twelve to fifteen days for the round trip.

Editor The TRIBUNE: 1. I am 47 years old, have lived here thirty years, but my name is not on the city directory. Can I get a name on the city directory? 2. I have a daughter under age born in California. Can I pass the tests for re-admission to the United States? 3. How young can a girl marry with the consent of her parents? 4. What is the law concerning children working in canneries and ranches in fruit season during school vacation? 5. Will 16-year-old girl be allowed to work without a school permit?—M. M. Vallejo.

1. If you are free from contagious disease and can read some language and are able to support yourself you will have no trouble returning. United States immigration officials say they will take into consideration your thirty-year residence, your short stay abroad and the fact that you have a daughter here. A girl can marry at 14 years of age with the consent of her parents. At 18 years without. 3. Children may work in canneries but must first secure a labor permit from the California Labor Commission. 4. A 16-year-old girl can work without a school permit but under the new law must go to school at least one hour a day. See C. N. Shane, Chabot hall, concerning child compulsory education.

Editor The TRIBUNE: Can you inform me who buys dry rabbit hides?—OLD SUBSCRIBER.

Apply to the S. F. Furriers, 1333 San Pablo avenue.

Editor The TRIBUNE: Is the Masonic lodge at Fifteenth and Madison the same as the American Masonic Federation?—A. SUBSCRIBER.

NEW SCHOOL SITE IN TREBLE GLEN

Twenty-five acres of the western portion of Treble Glen will be purchased as the site for a new high school and junior high school and a school athletic field, under a recommendation of the building program committee and the citizens' bond expenditure committee adopted by the Board of Education at a meeting last night. The buildings erected are to be constructed so as to conform to and carry out the proposed park development bond project.

The recommendations approved last evening, which mark an important step in the development of the new school building program, also provide for the acquisition of additional property for the new Bay school site at San Pablo avenue and Sixty-third street, for the purchase of an additional parcel of land for the new Santa Fe junior high school at Fifty-eighth and Grove streets, and for the appraisals of additional property for the Melrose Heights, Lawrence and Lawrence College. Word of her appointment was received today by T. B. Bridges, manager of the Oakland institution.

Carrying out further recommendations of the two committees, the board approved the adoption of a resolution asking the Board of Supervisors to appropriate to the capital funds of the bond money all money derived from the sale of buildings on the new school site, and the appointment of three additional appraisers named by the Real Estate Board, J. Carl Seuberg, James McElroy and Joseph A. Pizzotti, was also approved.

Some people, after taking only a few tablets, feel a new vigor, and find that they are able to do more work, and that they are able to resist the attacks of colds, flu, and other ailments. Bitro-Phosphate is a powerful tonic, phosphorus in their bodies. When you see thin, feeble people, or people who are nervous, pale, frail, or dependent on lack of energy, you may look for the need of certain elements that make a strong constitution.

For Sagging or Hanging Cheeks and Chin

Flabbiness of cheeks, chin or neck was considered a very difficult to correct until the discovery of what is known as the "Fong Wan" remedy. The preparation is so simple and harmless that any woman can use it and apply it. It is all the more remarkable in that its beneficial effects are apparent even after the very first application, both as to appearance and the feeling of comfort produced.

The formula is: One ounce powdered castile soap, dissolved in one pint witch hazel. Use daily as a wash lotion. The solution tends to contract and tighten the loose skin, thereby lifting, smoothing out the folds, creases and wrinkles, besides having a refreshing influence on skin of coarse texture and large pores. As with hazel and castile soap can be had at any drug store, anyone can try this successful recipe.—Advertisement.

NEGLECT RESULTS IN LOSS OF HAIR

Chicago Specialist Says Proper Care Would Prevent Many Cases of Baldness

The mere use of the comb and brush three or four times a day is not sufficient to keep hair in one of nature's most wonderful gifts. Prof. John H. Austin, bacteriologist, hair and scalp specialist in Chicago, who now has offices at The Hotel Chicago, Fourteenth and Washington, says the use of proper corrective treatment of scalp disorders will do this.

Nature's signs of distress—dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair, dry or brittle hair—warn you of approaching baldness. Do not wait a day—see Prof. Austin, over 40 years a specialist—he will advise you what to do.

By showing you the roots of your own hair, magnified thousands of times, Prof. Austin shows you the places that are destroying your hair day by day, gradually killing every hair root. He shows you the use of massage cures, dandruff cures, hair tonics, etc., is like taking medicine for your hair. You are trying to cure.

Why Be Skinny?

It's Easy to be Plump, Popular and Attractive

It's easy to be plump, popular and attractive instead of being thin, scrawny and unattractive. Almost invariably the trouble is due to weak digestive organs. You may eat heartily, but owing to the lack of proper energy and the consequent failure to assimilate your food, you are not getting the benefit from the food you eat. All of this can be remedied very quickly by taking with each meal a five-grain tablet of Blood-Iron Phosphate. This quickly restores the blood and increases its oxygen carrying power, and in a remarkably short time you are no longer thin, weak, nervous man or woman begins not only to put on flesh, but to regain a very healthy, energetic, and some organic complaint, there is no reason why if you take Blood-Iron Phosphate with each meal, you should not soon look and feel much better and many years younger. Deposit $1.50 with The Owl Drug Store, and you will receive a three weeks' treatment of Blood-Iron Phosphate for a three weeks' treatment. It is a guaranteed remedy, and is authorized to give it to you.—Advertisement.

A Simple Way to Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you need), use it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone. Use three or four more applications. It will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

Johnson Women Organize;
Strength in East Is Told

One hundred leaders in the Johnson-For-President campaign in Oakland met last evening in the headquarters on Broadway to perfect an organization of the women voters and to hear James M. Oliver outline the issues to be considered in the primary election. The meeting was called by Mrs. Bessie Wood Gustafson.

Oliver, who has recently returned from a trip in the East, brought word of the manner in which the Johnson candidacy is being received. "The most certain thing on earth," he said, "is that this year is a Republican year provided the Republican leaders do not select a man who is not acceptable to the rank and file."

Oliver reviewed the record of Johnson and emphasized the need for him as a statesman. In part he said:

California has always been for Hiram Johnson. California is for him now stronger than ever. I know that some of our very well-meaning citizens admit that Johnson's record as governor and senator has been wonderful, but they insist that he has made one mistake and for that he should be dismissed from further service in disgrace. Suppose you don't like the lengths to which he has gone in his opposition to Woodrow Wilson's league of nations, unless you are one of Wilson's immediate clan—the "wifely few" who would hold their tongues and tread down the throats of the American people exactly as Wilson wrought it, you must admit, whether you be an interpretationist, a reservationist or an irreconcilable that it was Johnson who made these interpretations and these reservations possible. Without the marvelous fight he made against Woodrow Wilson, almost alone at first, these interpretations and Lodge reservations would not ever have been thought of but instead then and there we would have had wrangled about our necks for all time. Wilson's league of nations was the crossing of a "Y" or the dotting of an "i," including the infamous Shantung provision, its six British votes to our one, with its resultant chloroforming of the Monroe doctrine and American rights in general.

As a result of the meeting a number of neighborhood clubs will be formed by the women workers.

A general committee was appointed consisting of Laura Bida Powers, Mrs. A. C. Simpson, Mrs. W. D. Thomas, Mrs. Amy G. Fosha, Mrs. Henrica Ilohan, Mrs. F. J. Harris, Mrs. E. C. Campbell, Mrs. W. T. Cleveland, Dr. Minora E. Kibbe, Mrs. Mary E. Murray, Myrtle Platt, Mrs. J. H. Mellon, Mrs. Hattie J. Anderson, Mrs. E. E. Sears, Mrs. Ed F. Scanlon, Mrs. Anna C. Law, Mrs. P. J. Platt, Mrs. T. P. Loughran, Mrs. Cora B. Kling, Mrs. E. C. Rathbun.

The election of officers was as follows: President, Dr. Eva Harris; Secretary, Mrs. Helen Ross; Treasurer, Mrs. Bessie Wood Gustafson.

Johnson meetings are to be held tonight at Hayward, Livermore, Willows, Dunbar and Modesto. Maxwell McNutt will speak at Livermore and John Francis Neyland and Katherine Phillips Edson at Hayward. Hoover meetings are to be held at Paso Robles and at Willie Prof. Thomas Reed and Captain C. C. Gregory are to speak.

Hiram Johnson would have carried Cook county, Illinois, had he been a candidate in the primaries of that State, is the declaration of Edgar J. Cook, Johnson delegate from Cook county to the Republican National Convention. Cook, the only candidate in Illinois pledged to support Johnson, led his ticket and polled a plurality of more than 2000 votes.

The Women's Democratic Club of Alameda county will meet at Hiram Johnson at Hotel Oakland on May 1. Mrs. Carrie L. Hoyt has been named director of organization for the county by the women's bureau of the national committee.

5-YEAR MOLLY IS KIDNAPED AND HELD FOR RANSOM

Kidnaped last night by an unscrupulous person and today held for ransom, the case of five-year-old Molly, the pride of the Gerjak family, 9837 Elmore avenue, is being rigorously investigated by the police.

It was one of the boldest kidnappings in history of the city.

The alarm was first given last night by Willie Gerjak, aged 9. "Willie, it is time for supper," said Mrs. P. Gerjak. "Go and bring Molly home. She has been out long enough in the night air."

He came rushing back, white-faced and breathless.

"Mother, mother," he screamed. "Molly has been stolen by a kidnaper. I saw him taking her away and she tried to break loose from him, but he would not let her."

The police were called and the neighborhood was scoured by the police and the Gerjaks. Within half an hour Molly was found.

The trail led to the residence of George Anderson, 1521 Fifty-first avenue. Molly, trembling and frightened from her fearsome experience, was found tied in front of the house.

"Are you the man who stole our Molly," demanded Mrs. Gerjak. "You bet I am, madam," replied Anderson. "and it will cost you $15 to get her back. That's the value I place on the radishes and thins that cow ate when she broke into my garden today."

Remains of the extinct dodo are found only on the island of Mauritius.

Any day you wish you may have in your home a piano that you can play—that every member of your family can play. We refer, of course, to the Player Piano.

Dance music, song accompaniments, popular music or classical—all the great variety that only the piano can provide, you may enjoy when you wish. You need no longer depend upon the whim of some talented person who "plays." For with only limited practice you will find that through a good Player you can command every means of artistic piano-playing—you, yourself, can play with a greater ease and fluency of expression than any pianists you know.

We carry the Aeolian Company line of Players (makers of the famous Pianola and the marvelous Duo Art) and offer a wide range when graded according to price. We have a Player for every purse. We make liberal allowances on Pianos and other musical instruments—if desired, we gladly arrange convenient terms of payment. Upon investigation you will be surprised how easy it is to own a good Player Piano.
